General Overview

WHAT IS UNCLAIMED PROPERTY?

Unclaimed Property is money or intangible property owed to an individual or business. Property is considered unclaimed after it is held for a period of time with no owner contact, and a good faith effort has been made to locate the owner. Abandoned property is turned over to the Department of Revenue from many sources, including banks, credit unions, corporations, utilities, insurance companies, governmental entities and retailers throughout the United States.

rightful owner or their heir. The Department of Revenue acts as custodian for safe keeping of the property until the rightful owner can be located. Once reported to the Department, abandoned property is available for refund to the owner or legal claimant indefinitely.

Washington State law requires businesses and other organizations (commonly referred to as “HOLDERS”) to review their records each year to determine whether they hold any funds, securities or other property that has been unclaimed for the required abandonment period. Holders file an annual report and deliver the property to the state. The length of time property must be abandoned before being turned over to the state varies by the type of property (see page 21).

UNIFORM UNCLAIMED PROPERTY ACT OF 1983

The Washington Unclaimed Property Act protects unclaimed property until it is returned to its

WHO MUST REPORT?

The following are required to report unclaimed property:

- Banking and financial organizations, including state or federally chartered banks in trust companies, savings banks, private bankers, savings and loan associations, credit unions and investment companies.
- Business associations wherever located, such as a corporation, joint stock company, business trust, partnership, cooperative or other association of two or more individuals or business purposes, whether or not for profit (including all insurance companies).

- Utilities owned or operated for public use must report.
- Legal entities including state, county and city governments, political subdivisions, public authorities, public corporations, estates, and trusts.

All holders are responsible for filing reports on behalf of their branches, divisions or other affiliated entities.

WHEN TO FILE

Reports and remittance are due from ALL holders before November 1 of each year.

The report must include all property that has gone unclaimed for the required dormancy period, as of the preceding June 30 (see page 22). The only exception is Safe Deposit Box contents. You must first send the report showing a complete inventory of the property listing any unpaid charges. You will be notified which boxes will be accepted after we review your report.

Organizations with nothing to report who have filed in the past should file a negative (zero) report.

If you are unable to submit your report by the November 1 due date, you may request an extension of the due date. Your request must be in writing and state the reason that the extension is needed.

Interest may be charged on all property not reported or delivered timely as required by law. This interest may be charged even if the property is interest bearing for the lost owner. Interest is calculated from the due date to the date payment is received by the Unclaimed Property office.

REPORTING METHODS
